STONEWALL JACKSON'S WAY.

Come, men, stack arms! Pile on the rails, Stir up the camp-fire bright; No matter if the cannon falls, We'll make a roaring night.

We see him now—the old slouching hat Cocked over his eye askew; The shrewd, dry smile, the speech so pat, So calm, so blunt, so true.

The sun's bright glances rout the mists Of morning—and, by George! Here's Longstreet struggling in the lists, Hemmed in an ugly grog.

LITHOGRAPHY.

(N. Y. Correspondence Buffalo Courier.) Lithographic stone, which is found in Germany, has the peculiarity of taking a green spot on its surface, so as to repel water completely wherever the oleaginous matter has touched it, while becoming wet at all other points.

In regard to the tidal wave alarm, Professor M. F. Maury writes to a friend in New Orleans as follows: "As for an immense tidal wave in the Gulf of Mexico—that sea is, in this respect, like the Mediterranean—a close sea—the entrance to which are not, as a moment's reflection will convince, large enough to admit, during six hours of flood, water enough to fill such a sea to overflowing. This is why you have little or no tides in these two seas. So New Orleans is safe. At any rate, she has far more reason to fear the floods of the Mississippi from above, with their crevasses, than the tides of the Gulf with their waves."

An ingenious romance reader has concocted the following Dickensy items: "Oliver Twist," who had some very "Hard Times" in the "Battle of Life," and having been saved from "The Week of the Golden Mary," by "Our Mutual Friend," "Nicholas Nickleby," had just finished reading "A Tale of the Two Cities" to "Martin Chuzzlewit," during which time "The Cricket on the Hearth" had been chirping right merrily, while "The Chimes" from the adjacent church were heard, when "Seven Poor Travelers" commenced singing a "Christmas Carol," "Barnaby Rudge" then arrived from the "Old Curiosity Shop" with some "Pictures from Italy" and "Sketches by Boz" in a street that has "No Thoroughfare," opposite "Bleak House," where one of "Dr. Marigold's Prescriptions" to an "Uncommercial Traveler," was brooding over "The Mystery of Edwin Drood."

SEVERAL FIRST-RATE BUILDING LOTS ON THE TRI-WEEKLY YEOMAN.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1871.

Lost.—On the 13th, a lady's gold watch, with short chain of black and gilt links. A liberal reward will be paid, if left at Judge Drane's.

THE ELECTION SATURDAY.

The special election for circuit judge on Saturday passed off so quietly that no one, not otherwise apprised, would have known, from external appearances, that one was in progress. There being no contest, the vote was of course light, only reaching 570 in the county, as follows:

Major:
Court-House	94
Market-House	187
Forbes of Elkborn	48
Peck's Mill	66
Bald Knob	55
Benson	48
Bridgeport	68
Total	566

At Bridgeport, four votes were cast for Judge Drane, who was not a candidate, of course. We have no reports from the other counties, but the result will be similar to that here, electing P. U. Major circuit judge of the 11th District for five years, vice Hon. W. S. Pryor, resigned.

By reference to our columns elsewhere, it will be seen that our old friend, S. O. Crockett, of this county is a candidate for Door-keeper of the Senate. Mr. Crockett is one of those life-long Democrats who has never wavered of doing his whole duty, and it would gratify a very large circle of friends to see him receive such a recognition of his services.

The United States Supreme Court met yesterday. Among the cases to be decided are those as to the constitutionality of the legal tender act, the civil rights act, and the cotton tax; also as to the binding force of notes given for slaves before the emancipation proclamation, and as to the disputed ownership of certain property claimed by the Presbyterian Church North and the Church South.

It seems bad enough for Chicago to have had a three days' fire, without being subjected to all the bad poetry which is being given to the world through the newspapers. One of these effusions we find in the Cincinnati Commercial, from the pen of George Alred Townsend, addressed to "the Smitten City." We can understand how he comes to apostrophize the Chicago Tribune, and he says (meaning doubtless its fire-proof building):

"Long after fire had toppled church and steeple
Thou stoodst amidst the ruins like a fort!"—because he was its Washington correspondent, and naturally was poetically moved by its misfortune. But we cannot understand how on earth he ever came, claiming to be a poet with a volume of poems upon the market, to indite such a verse as this:

"Then when all weak predictions proved but scandal,
And the wild marshes grew a sovereign's
home,
A dozing cow o'erst an archer's candle,
Once more a foot fired the Ephesian dome."

The cow's foot is all right, but the poet's foot is not so faultless. The prosody of the last line is particularly open to criticism, and the verse has altogether more scandal than scanning.

The Russellville Herald says that the Logan Wollen Mills were broken into and robbed, one night last week, of several bolts of cloth. Near the spot next morning was found a memorandum book, with the name of P. Gibbons in it, and containing the adventures of an attaché of Hemmings & Cooper's circus during the past summer, extracts from which the Herald publishes. It would seem to be time for P. Gibbons to rise and explain how that book got there.

To THE LADIES.—Our lady readers will bear in mind that Mrs. Von Borries will to day have her usual fall opening, when she will display the latest styles and fashions in everything pertaining to her establishment. She has in person selected her new stock in New York, and feels confident in giving satisfaction to her patrons and the public generally.

ARE YOU INSURED?—This is the all-prevailing question now-a-days, and is put to our readers this morning very forcibly by the old battle-scarred and reliable Insurance Company of North America, through its agent, Captain R. C. Steele. It has withstood the vicissitudes of seventy-seven years, and is the oldest company of the kind in the United States. Read the advertisement elsewhere.

Among the insurance companies which announces its solvency in our columns this morning, is the Liverpool and London and Globe, whose assets are over twenty millions. Col. James A. Dawson is prepared to take risks at reasonable rates. In his absence, application can be made to W. S. Johnson, at the Yeoman Office.

Gov. Leslie returned to the city on Saturday, after an absence of a week or two in attendance on the Barren circuit court whither he went to wind up his legal business. He will return there in a few days, the court being still in session, to conclude all his business arrangements and to remove his family to this city.

LOOK OUT FOR BURGLARS.—The city police, a day or two ago, followed up two suspicious strangers, who escaped from them, but dropped in their flight a pair of new skeleton keys, used for entering houses and stores.

The Kentucky Central Railroad Company will transport free of charge all supplies of provisions and clothing for the benefit of the Chicago sufferers.

We had the pleasure of a call yesterday from Hon. R. J. Browne, formerly member of the Legislature from Washington, who is attending the Court of Appeals.

(For the Yeoman.)

DREAM LIFE.

Within the quiet hour Fate kindly throws
Into the lives of all
The fair ideal comes to veil our woes,
And in the cup of gall,
Which is the draught of Earth, drops calm repose.

And while the Real hides its iron wand,
And Sorrow falls asleep,
We follow wizard Fancy's beckoning hand
Across the waveless deep
Where Dreamers sail—far from the shadowed land.

Soft music, soul-discerned, the pulses thrill
With power strangely sweet;
Holds all the sounds which jar upon us still;
Subdues life's fever heat;
And perfect peace our being comes to fill.

And when from that deep trance we wake, and rise
To take our burden up,
Upon the soul less heavily it lies;
That sweetness in life's cup
Brings to us all a dream of Paradise.

LAURA.

THE PRESBYTERIAN SYNODS.

Both branches of the Presbyterian Church are in session at Danville. The Declaration and Testimony, or Southern Synod, elected Rev. E. Forman, of Fayette, moderator, and Rev. J. V. Logan, of Harrodsburg, clerk. The General Assembly, or Northern Synod, elected Rev. J. M. Worrall, D. D., of Covington, moderator, and Rev. Mr. Burch, of Lexington, clerk. Much of the acerbity which once marked this division has worn off, and although there has as yet been no demonstration in that direction, it is to be hoped that the troubles will in time be healed. It is natural that having failed, after separation, to heal by the first intention, the process should be slow, and that it should develop a good deal of proud flesh, which must need be eliminated before there can be a healthy reunion of the severed parts.

GOOD TEMPLARS.—The eighth annual session of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars, which convened in the city of Lexington last week, was largely attended by delegates from the various lodges of the State, and the representative men of the Order, among whom were many able and prominent gentlemen from all portions of our Commonwealth. The session was held Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, October 10th, 11th, and 12th, and would compare favorably with, if not surpass, in ability any similar body held in the State, and much larger than any ever before held. About three hundred delegates were in attendance many of whom were ladies, representing prospects for an increase during the coming year proportionally, at least, with the past which was ten thousand members. The indications are, that it will revolutionize the society of our State in checking a national evil that is sensibly felt in every community. The Grand officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows:

Geo. W. Bain, G. W. C. T., Lexington, Ky.—salary, $3,000.
Miss Alice Drake, G. W. V. T., Paris, Ky.
Rev. H. P. Walker, G. W. C. T., Covington, Ky.
Tim Neelham, G. W. Secretary and Treasurer, Louisville, Ky.—salary, $1,500.
Miss Fannie Nold, G. W. A. Secretary, Paducah, Ky.
W. H. Garing, G. W. C., Scottsville, Ky.—salary, $1,500.
W. Oscar Foreman, G. W. Mess, Louisville, Ky.
A. P. Dillon, G. W. M., Lexington, Ky.
Miss Julia Howe, G. W. D. M., Carlisle, Ky.
John Stites, Jr., G. W. I. G., Hopkinsville, Ky.
Willis Mustain, G. W. O. G., Caveana, Ky.
J. J. Hickman, P. G. W. C. T., Louisville, Ky.—salary, $2,500.

The delegates to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of North America are, J. J. Hickman, G. W. Bain, and Hon. John G. Carlisle.

With such an able and efficient set of officers as the above, and being in a financial condition to pay them the above salaries, it is destined to wield an immense influence, and to alleviate much suffering, and prevent, by their efforts of charity, the young men of our country from becoming inebriates, often ending in crime, misery, and degradation. We understand that the Grand Lodge also donated three hundred dollars to the suffering of Chicago. Let the good work go bravely on.

We saw a paragraph the other day, stating that a little boy in Harrison county had killed eleven birds at one shot. Our thirteen year old young friend, Jacob S. Evans, son of Major Humphrey Evans, of Woodford, on Saturday, killed twenty-three birds on the wing at one shot. They were rice birds.

Hon. J. C. Gilbert, of Graves, Senator elect from the 21st district, was in the city Saturday, but made such a brief stay we failed to have the pleasure of meeting him. When he comes again, we hope it will be to stay longer.

Capital Lodge, I. O. G. T., will meet in regular session to-night, at 7½ o'clock at their hall, when important business will be transacted. A full attendance is specially requested. Visiting members are cordially invited.

The following is the pastoral letter sent by the Bishops of the Episcopal Church setting in triennial convention at Baltimore to their various dioceses for the purpose of encouraging contributions to the relief of the Chicago sufferers:

PASTORAL LETTER.

To the clergy and laity of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States:

DEAR BRETHREN: A conflagration, perhaps unparalleled in the history of Christendom in its extent and in the magnitude of the losses it has occasioned, has come over the rich and prosperous city of Chicago, leaving it in ruins, consigning some persons to death in one of its most dreadful forms, reducing many from wealth to poverty, and many more from competence to the verge of starvation. In the presence of so fearful a calamity, when the arm of God is laid bare before us, while yet His bounties are continued to us and you, and some of you are enriched with a large share of His temporal gifts, we, your Bishops and fathers in God, call upon you in His name and in His sake, and in remembrance and imitation of our dear Lord, to whose service and example you are vowed, who did Himself go about doing good to the bodies as well as the souls of men, and who has taught that the good we do to our suffering brethren He will acknowledge in the last day as done to Himself, we call upon you to give at once from your wealth, and even from your poverty freely, and to liberally aid in our heavily-afflicted brethren in Chicago; and we ask that in every congregation in our diocese and missionary jurisdiction collections be made on the 15th October, or as soon thereafter as may be, and be at once remitted to the treasurer of each diocese; to be by him forwarded to the persons in Chicago authorized to receive and distribute such contributions; and we pray, dear brethren, that the grace and guardian care of God may rest upon you and yours. We remain, faithful and lovingly, your Bishops and pastors.

(Signed) B. B. Smith, Presiding Bishop and Bishop of Kentucky; Chas. P. McIlvaine, Bishop of Ohio; Samuel A. McKelvey, Bishop of Illinois; and John P. Whittemore, Bishop of Maryland, and forty-four other Bishops.

The Rev. Lovick Pierce, D. D., father of Bishop Pierce, and the oldest minister of the Methodist Church in the South, being now in the 88th year of his age, and the 66th of his ministry, preached a sermon an hour long at Haynesville, Ga., a week ago, against the extravagance of female dress.

Governor Leslie has commissioned Dr. William P. White, of Louisville, as Surgeon General of Kentucky, who succeeds Dr. Richard O. Cowling, appointed by Governor Stevenson. The position is complimentary only, there being no pay attached to it.

A complete and full assortment of fancy and staple groceries at Jas. M. Todd's, corner Main and Ann streets.

We call attention to the advertisement of a fine Woodford farm for sale. Mr. Heffner is desirous of disposing of this place, and offers a rare chance for a good investment. See him at once.

A gang of ruffians, headed by a man named Yowell, went to the house of Mr. J. W. Brooks, near Versailles, on Wednesday, and threatened his and his family's life. They were arrested and held to keep the peace.

A complete and full assortment of choice family groceries at Jas. M. Todd's, corner Main and Ann streets.

INFORMATION WANTED FOR COLLINS' HISTORY OF KENTUCKY.

Citizens of Kentucky, by giving any information, in the following heads, that may be in their possession, will confer a valuable service by enabling Mr. Collins to incorporate into his forthcoming history of Kentucky much interesting matter that will otherwise be lost. We hope that all old citizens will take a little trouble to send Mr. Collins such facts as they know themselves or from reliable information. Every old family in the State should be represented in Collins' history. Accuracy and delay will make it impossible for Mr. Collins to use the material, since his work will be shortly put to press.

Mr. Collins says: Be very particular to write and spell all names—of men, towns, rivers, creeks, &c., distinctly and correctly. Many of these are named after citizens and objects which vary much in the mode of spelling—as Muldraugh, Mulrow, or Muldraugh's hill; Nolin, Nollin, or No Linn creek, &c.

Write everything that you consider important and have good reason to know to be reliable that has happened in your county. If accurate, it is what I want; if not ample in its details, give names and post-office address of persons with whom I can correspond, to get further particulars. All events are not alike important, but many events of comparative small importance are yet worth preserving.

Any documents sent to Mr. Collins will be carefully preserved and returned. Arrange your information under the following heads:

1. Make a pen sketch or drawing, or rough map, of your county (covering four or five inches square, or larger), showing the rivers, towns, settlements, pioneer stations or settlements, if any, and mark distance between towns; also mark the names of adjoining counties and where they bound on it.
2. Describe the county by counties—say what counties on north, south, east and west, or northeast and northwest, southeast and southwest. If a river or creek makes part of the boundary, give its name; also, whether the county is level or hilly or mountainous, quality of the soil, &c.
3. Say when the county was organized, after whom named, what counties cut off from or composed of.
4. Give names of all towns and cities and their distances from court-house, their population, location, number of stores, furnaces or factories, and of what kind—whether salt, iron, oil, wool, agricultural implements, &c., newspapers, hotels, mechanics' shops, lawyers, doctors, churches and of what denominations, court-houses, colleges, academies, tobacco warehouses or stemmeries, pork-houses, mills and of what kind, tanneries, and banks.
5. After whom were the towns named, if known.
6. Give the names of all rivers and creeks, the general course of the large ones, and into what stream they empty.
7. State the principal productions and business of the county—whether tobacco, hemp, corn, wheat, stock raising, lumber, coal, &c.
8. At what point, and by whom, was your county first settled? Tell any reliable incidents connected with its early settlement.
9. State what locks and dams, on what river, are in your county.
10. What remarkable events have occurred in your county? What great men were born in it or citizens of it?
11. Give any incidents of the Indian war which occurred in it, or to citizens of it; also of the war of 1812, or of the rebellion.
12. Describe locality, dimensions, and shape of mounds, ancient fortifications, or monuments, or burying grounds; or any great natural curiosity, remarkable springs, caves, wells, old inscriptions on trees, &c.
13. Give the names of each newspaper ever published in your county, by whom edited, by whom published, and during what year. Send a copy of each if you can; I will take care of and return it. Address R. H. Collins, Covington, Ky.

THE NEW CONGRESSIONAL APPOINTMENT.

It will be remembered that at the latest session of Congress an effort was made by the Western representatives to have a new apportionment bill passed, so that those States which are entitled to additional members of the House, under the census of 1870, might elect them at once, and send them on to take seats and participate in the proceedings of the next session of the present Congress. The measure, however, was resisted and defeated by the members from those States, chiefly New England, whose delegations would be reduced by the new apportionment. As no new law was passed, the laws already existing govern the matter, and under those laws the Secretary of the Interior has authority to make the apportionment. The act of May, 1850, limited the whole number of members of the House to 233, but the act of March, 1862, increased the number to 241, and at this number it will stand, unless Congress shall still further increase it to prevent the older States from losing members, while the growing States gain. The whole population of the United States, as officially determined by the late census, is 38,113,253, and this number, divided by 241, gives 158,140 as the ratio of representation. The law provides that to make up any deficiency in the whole number of Representatives fixed, 241, an extra number shall be allowed to those States which have the largest fractions of the ratio over. Under this arrangement, the apportionment will be as follows:

STATES	Population.	No. of Representatives in present Congress.	No. of Representatives in next Congress.	Largest fractions.
Alabama	996,992	6	6	—
Arkansas	484,471	3	3	—

Total	38,113,253	243	256	236

Total number of members..... 241

The failure of Congress to pass a new act at the last session will not defeat the new apportionment, as the laws already existing direct the Secretary of the Interior "to ascertain the aggregate representative population of the United States, and ascertain the representative population of each State, and decide the whole number of the representative population of each State by the ratio already determined by him; and the product of this last division shall be the number of representatives apportioned to such State under the last enumeration." The Secretary is further directed to make out and transmit to the House of Representatives and the Executive of each State a copy of such apportionment. The whole duty, therefore, devolves upon the Secretary of the Interior, and he will, no doubt, perform it before the meeting of the next session of Congress.

Striped suits complete in dark, neat patterns is the leading style for morning wear. Coat, a double-breasted, buttoned jacket, buttoning three buttons, medium long lapels, shaped easy to figure, and one inch longer than last season. Waistcoat, single-breasted Newmarket, buttoned one or two buttons at option, well cut away in front, long, in the waist, short skirt, good sized flaps on the hips, edges double-stitched, and striped buttons to match the goods. Trousers, double-breasted, in English meltons, in black, blue and Oxford, are taking the place somewhat of the diagonals so long worn, and there are some new styles of the basket, honeycomb and matted weaves in black and blue.

The Prince of Wales frock is the coat most favored for these goods, cut medium length in the waist and rather longer in the skirt than formerly, to button three buttons; lapels faced grenadine, (parade silk, or bound with ducape or ribbon binding; side-edges on the skirt, and fancy silk twist buttons.

Waistcoat double-breasted, lapels sewn on, binding and buttons to match the coat. Stripes are the prevailing style for trousers, quiet patterns in dark colors being preferred. Some very handsome goods with silk mixed stripes of rich colorings are among the best of the season. Trousers are worn wider in the legs, still maintaining the full wide bottom, and having a straight appearance. Fancy Berlin waistcoats in original patterns are among the novelties of the season, and are becoming very fashionable, cut double-breasted, bound with fancy ducape binding, and silk twist buttons.

Diagonals, however, are still fashionable, and some very pretty new patterns are introduced.

For fall overcoats the new goods are Viennas, Venetians, Cambridge elastics and cover coatings, the latter being an entirely new cloth originally introduced by Mr. Poole, to wear over hunting costumes in "going to cover," but becoming very fashionable in London, the same goods are now made up for general wear. The double-breasted Chesterfield is the most stylish shape, velvet collar, plain lapels, lapped seams, and deep cuffs on the sleeves. The single-breasted sack overcoat is now made without a fly, silk breast-binders to the edge of the lapels, with button-holes worked through. Pockets in front with flaps to go in or out, and an outside breast-pocket. Dress coats are rather longer and narrower in the skirt than last style, lapels narrow at the top, slightly curved in the shape and the waist seam, and faced with silk of new and peculiar patterns; side edges on the skirts, and two buttons and holes worked on the cuffs. A new edging, formed of a narrow zig-zag braid laid on flat, is worn on the edge, and embroidered shapes are also fashionable. Dress trousers are worn very easy, and straight to the leg.—N. Y. Mail.

From the mass of unscrupulous beings who seem to form a good share of the business world of to-day, it's quite refreshing to find one even in the not over-esteemed profession of oystermen, who are so honest and careful of their stewardship as was Deacon S— in the following item related by the Ithica (N. Y.) Democrat:

Deacon S— was an austere man, who followed oystering, and was of the hardshell persuasion. The Deacon "valued" made it a point to tell his customers that the money which he got for "visters" did not belong to him. "The good father made the istsers," said the Deacon, "and the money is his, I'm only a stoat." They do say the Deacon had a way of getting about ten cents more on a hundred in his peculiar method of doing business for somebody else. One Sunday morning the old fellow was tearing round from house to house, with a suspicious bit of currency in his hand. Some one had given him a bad fifty cent note, and he "wasn't going to migrate till that air was fixed up." "Why, Deacon," said one of his customers who had tackled about it, "what's the odds? What need you care? 'Tisn't yours, you know; you are only a stoat; it's your loss." The Deacon shifted his shoulder, walked to the door, unshipped his quid, and said: "Yaas, that's so; but if you think that I'm going to stand by and see the Lord cheated out of fifty cents you're mistaken. I don't foster no such feelin'!"

How to Make Tea.—M. Sayer's receipt; "Put the tea into a perfectly clean and dry teapot, ten minutes or a quarter of hour before it is required. Warm both the pot and the tea by placing them in the oven, or before the fire; then fill the tea-pot with boiling water. Allow it to stand for five minutes, and the tea is ready. This method improves the fragrance of the tea very considerably—slightly, but pleasantly, altering the flavor; it appears to act by removing any trace of moisture and dampness from the tea, and by developing the aromatic principle." It will be found well worth trial.

Fruit Jumbles.—One pound of sugar, one pound of butter, one pound and three-quarters of flour, six eggs, half pound of currants, a teaspoonful of saleratus, and spice to taste.

Scotch Cake.—Take half a pound of butter, one pound of sugar, three quarts of flour, two eggs, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, and as much rose water as will flavor it.

Yankee Cake.—Two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of milk, four eggs, a little lemon, cinnamon, and flour sufficient to make it the consistency of poundcake.

To Remove Grease From Floors.—Apply a paste of wood ashes; keep it on several days, and then wash off.

Hog Dressing.—Black hogs may be dressed better by the water not being so hot as in white hog dressing.

Onions Among Potatoes.—Grow onions among potatoes. It is said to kill potato bugs.

A Southern newspaper records that "two Africans thought to throw a Georgia train from the track, but the engineer slackened up, the passengers got around and organized a syndicate, and thrashed the villains within an inch of their lives."

The "proud catholic State" is what her loving sons call the Commonwealth of Kansas. It all comes from the cultivation of castor beans.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, is anything so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this medicine for their own use, and for the use of their families. Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease is in its early stages, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. It is a safe and reliable remedy over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, and the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear. Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it. Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it. Croup is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of its efficacy, but we must assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure.

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not kill. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is in no wise injurious any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts are literally beyond calculation, and we have without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in the ague cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed. Unaccompanied persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity. For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
